

Asparagus Transitions
Rain Rain Go Away

MEXICO & PERU

Bad news: As seasons come to an end in the U.S., and winter starting in Peru; days of rain in Central Mexico is continuing to slow production – all resulting in decreased availability and up markets.

Good news: Due to our grower-partner relationships, we have asparagus from all regions to get us through transitioning seasons and mother nature.

Harvest always strives to supply our customers with seasonally and sensationally fresh® ingredients. Call us to fill your asparagus order today!
